Study World-Class Courses - for Free

Improving your skills and enhancing your knowledge has never been so accessible. Through the Open Education Resource universitas (OERu) you can study courses that interest you, without spending a cent. The courses we offer are designed by credible instructors from international institutions, and made available to learners with an Internet connection and an interest in learning.

If you'd like the opportunity to earn academic credit for your course, our partner institutions offer formal assessment at a very reasonable price - with the option to gain recognised qualifications.

Requirements to study world-class courses:

- ✓ Internet access
- ✓ Motivation to learn
- ✗ Expensive textbooks
- ✗ Substantial financial investment
- ✗ Consistent, dedicated, scheduled time for study
- ✗ Relocating away from home

Learn independently or study with your peers

Improve your skills without breaking the bank

Through the Open Education Resource universitas (OERu), you have open access to a substantial catalogue of courses developed by socially motivated institutions around the world, delivered entirely online with no charge for textbooks, resources, or tuition. For a nominal fee, you can be assessed for academic credits through our international network of accredited institutions.

1st Year of Study - Learn For Free

Through the 1st Year of Study program at OERu, you can focus on building a learning foundation – at no cost. When you're ready, you have the option of paying a nominal assessment fee to one of our partner institutions to earn academic credit towards a recognised qualification.
